

Carla Rieger

Entertaining Motivational Speaker

For your next event do you want...

- attendees to experience a positive, uplifting message?
- attendees to successfully network in a comfortable way?
- a speaker who will customize their message for your group?
- a topic that will appeal to a variety of attendees?

...then Carla Rieger is the right speaker for you.

More than just a keynote speaker

While opening and closing keynote presentations are Carla Rieger's specialty, she also can offer:

- Up to 3 different break out sessions
- Lazer coaching session for attendees
- A promo video for your event
- A facilitated decision making session for your events team

Carla's Style

She delivers sound business solutions that people can immediately translate into results. With a strong background in adult learning styles, comedy and poignant storytelling -- all her presentations are highly engaging. People remember her sessions long after your meeting is over.

As a frequent speaker on 4 continents for over 23 years, Carla helps people influence with wisdom and power.

Here's what Meeting Planners are saying:

Carla is an eloquent, moving and memorable presenter.
- Tarun Grover, Times of India Management Series

Her presentations are fun, in-depth and easily applicable to today's business problems.
- Al Halstead, US Trade & Patent Office Leadership Summit

She has the rare ability to package effective, profound and life-changing truths in humor. - Susan Ney, BC Human Resources Management Assoc

2 Popular Keynote Presentations

The Artistry of Change: The 3 Habits of Highly Resilient People

The ability to creatively handle constant change is the most sought after skill in the 21st Century.

People who can lead, adapt, innovate, and facilitate while facing constant change are the leaders of the future. An “artist of change” sees how to benefit from changes affecting their team, can create their own change process, and can build a culture of innovation wherever they go.

During this lively, entertaining and practical keynote you will be introduced to Carla Rieger’s tools for staying creatively adapted in uncertain times. Your attendees will discover how to:

- move people from reactivity to solutions when change hits
- help people benefit from the changes that may seem challenging
- inspire a culture of innovation and resourcefulness on your team

The Artistry of Change® is an innovative system that blends diverse fields such as educational kinesiology, psychology, change management theory, creative process models, and neuroscience. Witness how these fields are merging in exciting ways to produce the new ‘workplace artistry’.

Experience the power of full capacity no matter what is happening around you.

The Art of Communication: How to Turn Differences, Complaints and Pushback into Creative Solutions

Differences are an element like fire: too much causes damage; too little and no transformation can occur.

Costly communication breakdowns often happen because of simple misunderstandings. If not dealt with, you can lose income, enjoyment and productivity in your work environment.

During this engaging and interactive presentation you will discover how to:

- practice 3 simple habits that prevent communication breakdowns
- switch from an atmosphere of tension to a “healthy discussion”
- have touchy conversations that lead to positive outcomes
- communicate your needs in a way that people are open to hearing
- win back trust and create goodwill if it was lost

Experience the joy of making open communication a part of your daily work life.

*I was able to use what learned from you
immediately in my work,
which is rare in a speaker.*

- Simon Wong, Program
Director, National
Management Consultants
Assoc.

This was one of the most awesome presentations I’ve ever attended. I now feel I change tools to help people move through resistance to change.

- Natalie Pasin,
Director of Human Resources,
Envision Financial

Carla, with her humour, intelligence and sensitivity to group dynamics was an invaluable resource for our meeting

- Linda Cattelan,
Systems VP,
TD Canada Trust Bank

Carla Rieger

Entertaining
Motivational Speaker